One day my father said he had a big treat for me on my birthday. We took the bus and went to Milnerton beach. It was fun to build sandcastles and put my feet in the cold water. Then we took the bus to Table Mountain and went on the cable car for free because it was my birthday. I was so excited! Afterwards we went to visit the Waterfront and my father bought me such a delicious ice-cream! Next I wanted to see the African penguins. What a wonderful birthday I will never forget - I love living in Cape Town!
